FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLARS IN SIGHT

Work of Raising Money For New Hospital Very Satisfactory.

QUICK - GIVING CLUB.

Alexandrans, Now Elsewhere, Still Heard From—Twenty-Five Dollars From Butte, Montana

The hospital work is going on in a most satisfactory manner and the thermometer on the score board rises daily. As a matter of course the amounts received are not as large each day as they were during the first four weeks of the campaign, but the systematic work proposed by the committee will undoubtedly result in raising the fifty thousand dollars needed.

The contributors to the Quick Giving club are urged to do as much missionary work as possible and secure as many contributions as they possibly can, so as to add to the daily aggregate and insure the $50,000 by the end of the campaign.

There is a large number of our citizens who have not yet contributed and who doubtless desire to do so, but have simply delayed through lack of time to come to headquarters or through failing to meet one of the committee.

An application by mail to headquarters of the hospital committee at the Chamber of Commerce would secure literature in regard to the work and subscription blanks, or a check mailed to Arthur Herbert, Jr., treasurer care Burke & Herbert would accomplish the purpose.

It can hardly be believed that there is any citizen or corporation in the City of Alexandria who does not desire to be associated with this work.

The committee desires it explained that whilst it has been stated that less than 300 contributions have been made they recognize the fact that every contribution made through the Churches, Schools, Sunday schools and organizations is a contribution by a large number of children and grown people, whose names it was impossible to procure and publish. However, the gift of the little girl who gave her penny, and the old cook who gave her $5 in Fairfax and each child in the school and everyone else who contributed to the fund is as much appreciated as that of the largest donor to the fund and probably was made with greater sacrifice on the part of the donor than those who gave a generous donation from their abundance.

The chairman of the executive committee desires a meeting tonight at 8 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce of all the committees, so as to take steps to arrange for the closing days of the campaign. Each member of the committee is urgently requested to be present.

Among the contributions received this morning was one from M. Genzberger, a former resident of Alexandria, now of Butte, Mont., enclosing his check for $25.00. In his letter to Treasurer Herbert, he says:

"Having seen in the columns of the Gazette that the people of my old town were endeavoring to raise a fund to build a new hospital, I enclose my check for $25 on the First National Bank of Butte, Mont. Wishing you success in your noble undertaking, I am,

Yours very truly,
"M. GENZBERGER."

It was promised several days ago to publish a list of the subscribers, the amounts of which were heretofore announced, through the lady board of managers, which follows; but which has been previously counted in the total contributions and will not appear in today's.

The meeting of the board of managers was held May 14, and the following additional amount was handed in from the churches, for the building of the new Hospital.....$471.50

Dr. Urrutia Says Plot Exists to Wipe Out Huerta and Cabinet.

PEOPLE TO RISE SOON.

Refugee Alleges That Madero Was Shot by Guards When Attempt Was Made to Rescue Him.

Vera Cruz, May 19.—"I didn't keep count of them."

This was the reply of Dr. Aurelfano Urrutia, refugee from the wrath of General Huerta, when asked today how many had been put to death in Mexico City in the last twelve months.

The "removal" of countless Mexicans of high and low degree during the rule of Victoriano Huerta was calmly discussed by Urrutia, once minister of the interior, and credited with having been Huerta's secret executioner.

He admitted that many were summarily killed, but denied all personal responsibility.

"Did Huerta know that you were leaving the capital with your family?"

"No," he snapped. "I ran away because there was a plot among the people to take my life."

"Do you think there are plots against many of the cabinet members?"

"Yes, and against Huerta, too," was the positive answer. "The whole government is breaking down in the capital and the people will rise up soon, I think, and kill all the Huerta leaders who cannot get away."

"Were many killed secretly while you were Huerta's agent?" he was asked. "Yes; but I do not know how many," was the cautious reply.

"Is it true that Dominguez, the senator, who arose in his seat and criticized Huerta, saying that the criticism was his last will and testament, was killed?"

"Yes, he was killed."

"Is it true that he was taken to your sanitarium, before he was shot, and his tongue cut out by Huerta's orders?"

"That is a lie," vehemently answered Urrutia. "That was started against me by jealous cabinet members."

"Were not you minister of gobernacion and responsible for executions when Huerta ordered them?"

"Yes," came the weary reply; "but I only followed orders."

"How was Dominguez killed?"

"Taken out and shot, I suppose, as was usually done."

"How many were killed?"

"I do not know."

"Were as many as one hundred political opponents of Huerta shot in this way by Huerta's orders?"

"I did not keep any count," Urrutia persisted.

"Who was responsible for the killing of Rendon, the Maderista senator?"

"President Huerta ordered that to be done, and the order was carried out. There was nothing else for me to do.

"Do you know who killed President Madero?"

"The guards killed him when his friends tried to rescue him," came the quick response. "That is all I know about it."

"How many Mexican leaders have been assassinated?" Urrutia was asked.

"I do not know," he answered, "I was blamed for them all, but I did not do them."

The former minister spoke bitterly, mindful of the deep resentment still manifested against him by the Mexicans of Vera Cruz. Even as he talked in the Hotel Diligencia, a muttering crowd could be seen in the plaza outside, but American marines kept the crowds moving. Urrutia fled within the American lines, he said, to save himself and his family from the wrath of Huerta. He is under the protection of General Funston.

DAUGHTERS OF REVOLUTION.

Interesting Meeting of Mount Vernon Chapter Last Week.

There was a large and enthusiastic meeting of Mount Vernon Chapter, D. A. R., at the residence of Mrs. Lorenzo Lewis, at Braddock Heights Friday afternoon.

The annual reports of the various officers show the Chapter to be in a flourishing condition both as to membership and finances.

Mount Vernon Chapter will entertain the annual state conference of the Daughters of the American Revolution in this city next October, and it is expected there will be a large delegation present. The Chapter also expects to have the President General of the National Society D. A. R., Mrs. William Storey, at this conference.

Mrs. Mary G. Powell, the Chapter Historian, made the following interesting address on the founding of Mount Vernon Chapter.

Madame Regent:—I have the honor of reminding you that the Mount Vernon Chapter attained the twenty-first anniversary of its organization just two days ago. On May 13, 1893, a memorable gathering took place on the lawn at Mount Vernon and there at the Mecca of our native land, the charter members of our chapter proceeded to complete its organization. The late lamented Miss Hetzel presided as Regent and with her were many who are present today. Death has deprived us of a bright and chosen few. Memory lovingly recalls those absent ones the influence of whose worth, ability and energy made our chapter famed throughout the national Society. With pride as well as affection, we remember Miss Hetzel and Mrs. Hunter, Regents; Mrs. Ansley, vice Regent; Mrs. Blackburn, Miss Small, Miss Jackson, and Miss Dora Chinn. In addressing those assembled in the rooms of Mr. Dodge at Mount Vernon, Miss Hetzel said: "Where can we better serve the Constitution of the Daughters of the American Revolution in perpetuating the memory and spirit of the men and women who achieved American Independence than in classic Fairfax and Alexandria—in Loudoun whose county-seat bears the name of many patriots and in Prince William whose thirty trusty militiamen drove Lord Dunmore from Virginia soil. Here within sight of Gunston Hall, the home of George Mason, and on the ground and near the tomb of one "Who was the first, the greatest and best, the Cincinnatus of the West" we feel the inspiration of those gracious spirits and to you the descendants of the Washingtons, Masons, Lees, Marshalls, and Seldens, of Jefferson, Randolph, Simms, Powell and Harrison, I extend a greeting feeling sure that you will prove worthy of the noble deeds of your forefathers in field and Council, and make this Mt. Vernon Chapter the glory of the State of Virginia and the United States, as your ancestors did for this region in the days of old."

We are not ashamed of our record since these stirring words were uttered. Ever mindful of our duties the Mount Vernon Chapter has occupied undisputed its position in the front rank of the army of workers in the Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Never having very large means at our command we have still been able to contribute to the preservation of history, to assist education, to help in time of war and to erect substantial memorials in bronze and marble recording deeds as well as names that the future generation may be kept ever mindful and always proud of the early history of this great country into whose ports the foreigners now swarm from all parts of the earth to live lives and to carve out fortunes which may or may not preserve the credit of the United States, thus making it a duty as well as a matter of pride for us to preserve our traditions.

Today we are as united in sentiment and purpose as on that bright May day of 1893, when we met on the lawn at Mount Vernon.

With an ever increasing membership of interested women, we may surely hope for a continuance of prosperity, and that the Mount Vernon Chapter may be as well-known to our descendants of the third and fourth generations, as to us of today are known and preserved the memory of our forefathers.

At the close of the meeting the Chapter, together with a number of Mrs. Lewis' friends, who had been invited to meet the chapter, were most charmingly entertained by their gracious hostess.

Assisting Mrs. Lewis were Mrs. Marshall McDonald, Miss Rose McDonald, Miss Emily McCormick, Mrs. Henry Wattles Mrs. William Wattles, and Miss Rose E. McCormick.

VIRGINIA'S CLAIM ON WEST VIRGINIA

Debt Commission Will Meet to Consider New Phase of Issue.

DESIRE FOR EQUITY.

Final Decision Expected Soon From U. S. Supreme Court—West Virginia Seeks Rehearing.

Richmond, Va., May 19.—The Virginia debt commission met this morning at 10 o'clock in the Jefferson Hotel, on the call of Attorney-General Pollard to consider the latest development in the famous litigation with West Virginia, which is the move made by attorneys for the New York holders of West Virginia certificates to have a receiver appointed to handle the funds in case the United States Supreme Court renders a final decree in favor of Virginia. Mr. Pollard was recently notified by Major Conrad Holmes, counsel for the New York certificate holders, that the supreme court will be petitioned for a receiver.

As a matter of fact, the bulk of the large debt, which Virginia claims is justly due from West Virginia, as an equitable share in the mother state's ante-bellum obligations, is held by individual bondholders, although the States does not hold, through the literary fund and institutions, a considerable amount of West Virginia certificates. While the Virginia commission does not know what motive dictates the new move on the part of the bondholders' committee, it is thought that the bondholders' fear that, in case of a compromise settlement, the state might not make an equitable division with individual holders of West Virginia certificates.

It is even said by those who profess to be familiar with the intentions of the bondholders' committee, that the bondholders will protest the State's claim to any of the money refunded, in case of settlement. So far as the commission knows, however, this is bare conjecture.

Having obtained a judgment for more than $7,000,000 against West Virginia for principal alone in 1911 Virginia moved the Supreme Court last year for a final judgment. The court gave West Virginia six months to come to terms with Virginia over the question of the amount of interest involved. Just before the expiration of the time limit the West Virginia attorneys moved for a reopening of the case from the beginning, on the grounds of after discovered evidence. The evidence took the shape of state resources of Virginia in 1863, which West Virginia claimed had never been divided on separation. No decision has been rendered.

The Virginia debt commission is composed of Jno. B. Moon, chairman, Joseph Button, secretary; Henry T. Wickham, H. H. Downing, Hal D. Flood, Randolph Harrison and J. Thompson Brown.

The Citizens' National bank through its officers will be glad to receive subscriptions from its patrons and friends to the Hospital fund, delivering the same to the committee daily.

CONDEMNS BURNS.

Georgia Judge Orders Jury to Probe Bribery Charges

Atlanta, Ga., May 19.—Referring to Wm. J. Burns, as the "alleged detective," and declaring him to be a "menace to the peace and of the community of the state, and to the administration of justice," Judge Ben Hill has ordered the grand jury to make a sweeping probe into the bribery charges which followed close on the heels of the Burns report of the investigation of the death of Mary Phagan.

Judge Hill said: "I think it not amiss to say here that the people of this community have been wrought up by a detective alleged to be a famous sleuth. I doubt the wisdom of allowing detectives from another State, whether they be noted, famous, or infamous, to come here and criticise our officers and our courts.

"We have no room here for such men, men who come posing as seeking the truth, when they are only seeking notoriety and money. We do not want them. I think it wise for those who have the right to issue licenses, to inquire into this matter and refuse such people the right to do business here. These men do not detect crime, rather they encourage crime.

"They are a menace to the peace of the state and an obstruction to the administration of justice.

"Never in the history of the State has there been a case which more deserved the consideration of a grand jury than the one to which I have brought your attention."

WORK OF STATE TAX COMMISSION

Jno. C. Plydel, of New York, Arrives in Richmond to Sit on Board.

POSITION OF CLERK.

Work of Gathering Data in Connection With Labors of Organization Will Devolve Upon Him.

Richmond, Va., May 19.—The members of the State Tax Commission, recently named under the authority of the General Assembly to report a system for the revision of taxation, met in the capitol yesterday afternoon to report the progress the individual members have made in the tasks assigned to each six weeks ago at the organization meeting. At that time the commission, impressed with the bigness of the undertaking before it, determined upon a division of labor, and appointed a number of subcommittees, which were to devote their energies to the pursuit of information on certain subjects of taxation.

While none of the subcommittees was able to present a rounded report yesterday, each reported progress of a gratifying character, indicative of the amount of work the individual members have put in upon the mass of statistics and reports at their command. Beginning today, the commission will meet in the Senate chamber daily for an indefinite period, the committees working separately at times and together when the occasion demands.

It had been planned for the commission to meet yesterday morning, but unexpected delays prevented the arrival of several commissioners until the afternoon. The subcommittee composed of Dr. Page, Delegate Chalkley and Mr. Donohoe met with Chairman Echols and Secretary Hill Montague last night to run over the draft of the committee's report to the commission.

John C. Pleydell, secretary of the New York Tax Reform Association, who has been invited to sit with the commission and give the commissioners the benefit of the statistical information he has collected, did not reach the city until late yesterday afternoon, too late to meet with the commission. He took part in the deliberations today.

On account of the delays in meeting the commission deferred the matter of selecting a clerk, on whose shoulders will fall the work of the assembling the statistics and date gathered by the commission. Three candidates have been prominently mentioned for position: Gray Garland, of Richmond, W. W. Beverley, of Richmond, and Adam Christe, of Norfolk.

SINGULAR SCENE.

Woman Kissed Man After Husband Shot Him in Wytheville.

Wytheville, Va., May 19.—Mrs. Samuel Davidson, wife of a wealthy lumberman, whose husband shot and killed Ben Wilson, a farmer, here Saturday night, requested yesterday to be allowed to see the body of the dead man, lying in an undertaker's establishment.

Mrs. Davidson was overcome by emotion, sobbing and kissing the face of the dead man hysterically and manifesting the greatest infatuation for the man who had lost his life through unlawful love for her.

When taken away she said, "Well, I have kept my promise to him, anyway." What promise she referred to is not known. Davidson will plead the unwritten law, as at least half a dozen people saw the killing. No inquest will be held and preliminary hearing before a magistrate will be waived. No motion for bail has yet been made.

TRUCK HOUSE MONEY

Common Council Concur in Action of the Board of Aldermen in Appropriating $12,000

There was a short session of the Common Council last night, the meeting having been called for the purpose of considering the report of the finance committee recommending the adoption of a resolution appropriating $12,000 for the purpose of erecting a modern engine and truck house on the north side of Prince street, near Royal. The action of the Board of Aldermen in adopting the report was concurred in and after the resolution shall have been signed by the Mayor the money will be available.

The dream of the members of the Relief Hook and Ladder Company is now about to crystalize. Many years ago the attention of Council was called to the fact that the present truck house was too contracted for the purposes for which it has been used for nearly half a century, it having originally been constructed to house the Relief hand engine of ante bellum days. The city subsequently purchased the lots on the east running to the alley in the centre of the square with the buildings thereon, so that when the city should find itself in a position to do so it could construct a building which would not only prove sufficiently commodious for the uses of the truck company, but for the proper housing of an extra steam fire engine which is kept to be used in emergencies.

The old truck house with the frame structure adjoining which have been Alexandria landmarks during so many years will soon be things of the past and upon their sites an engine and truck house up to date in every particular will be placed.

DEATH OF AN ENGINEER.

Former Alexandrian Dies Suddenly in Washington Yesterday.

Alfred H. Gheen, a native of Alexandria, died suddenly in Washington yesterday. The deceased was formerly engineer of the steamer Trenton, of the Chesapeake and Potomac Steamboat Line, and was to have gone on the steamer Frederick de Bary last Saturday when he became indisposed.

He was a son of the late John B. Gheen, who at one time resided in Alexandria. His grandfather, at the beginning of the civil war came to Alexandria and leased the Marshall House, which he conducted until the close of hostilities, after which the hostelry was conducted by his son, Alfred Gheen. There were during the war but two houses of public resort of any pretensions in the city—the old City Hotel and the Marshall House—and the fact that Colonel Ellsworth had been killed in the latter brought many guests from the north to that place. After the close of hostilities and the reopening of the Mansion House (now Braddock House) which had been used as a military hospital for four years, the Marshall House waned as a public resort, and after having been used for various purposes, it was destroyed by fire in 1877.

White, president of the Washington Southern Railway.

The board is composed of William H. White, of Richmond; R. Walton Moore, of Fairfax; Thomas S. Winston, of Richmond; Robert S. Barrett, of Alexandria; and A. B. Chandler, Jr., of Fredericksburg.

AWNING BURNS.

Some excitement was caused on King street, near Royal, about three three o'clock this afternoon when the awning in front of the New York Bargain House, on the north side of the street, was found to be burning.

The proprietor, in attempting to save the effigy of a female, fully attired, from burning, had his clothing to ignite from matches in his pocket, which added to the consternation.

The awning was totally destroyed and the clothing was burned from the dummy, leaving a wooden torso.

DEATH OF COL. FLEET.

Richmond, May 19.—Col. Tazewell Fleet, a graduate of the V. M. I., once a colonel in the old Virginia Volunteers, ex-member of Congress from the Third Virginia district, and a picturesque figure in recent years, died this morning at Charleston, S. C.

MEDIATION CONFERENCE.

Will Take a Week to Determine Whether There is Hope of Success.

Washington, May 19.—Interest in the Mexican situation shifted to Niagra Falls, Ontario, today. The American commissioners to the mediation conferences, accompanied by subordinate officials, left here this morning. They expressed hope that their mission would succeed.

One thing was certain in the minds of Commissioners Lamar and Lehmann. That was that there will be no long delay. They expressed themselves as certain that it would be possible to determine within a week whether there was hope of ultimate success. Their information, conveyed to them by President Wilson himself, was that the mediators were in sympathy with the general contentions of the United States and probably would use their influence to have the Huertista representatives make the concessions which are so vitally necessary to a successful conclusion of the entire affair.

Meanwhile, the attitude of the constitutionalist representatives here continues defiant. They assert that there will be no compromise with Huerta. Carranza and Villa have agreed, they say, that Huerta is to be driven from power by force of arms. If he does not flee the country, they promise to capture him and try him for the murder of Madero.

The Administration, however, is not considering Carranza at this time. It is desirous that the position of Huerta be definitely outlined, when the Administration will be in a position to make demands on the constitutionalists with exact knowledge of just what is wanted.

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION

SELECT DIRECTORS.

Fifth District Reserve Bank is Organized at Richmond.

Richmond, Va., May 19.—Nearly 250 bankers, among them some of the most prominent financiers of Washington, representing the 476 banks in the 5th district, met here yesterday and organized the Richmond Reserve bank.

The incorporators were William Ingle, vice president, and John B. H. Dunn, cashier of the Merchants'-Mechanics' Bank, of Baltimore; John J. Seibels, vice-president, and J. Pope Matthews, cashier of the Palmetto National Bank, of Columbia, S. C; H C. McQueen, president, and Charles S. Granger, cashier, of the Murchison National Bank, of Wilmington, N. C.; William A. McCorkle, president, and J. N. Carnes, cashier, of the Citizens' National Bank, of Charleston, W. Va., and H. S. Trout, president and J. Tyler Meadows, cashier of the First National Bank, of Roanoke, Va.

Later the following men were recommended for election as directors of the Richmond Reserve Bank:

Group one, Class A—Waldo Newcomer, president of the National Exchange Bank of Baltimore.

Group one, Class B—George J Seay, Richmond, business man.

Group two,Class A—Col. J. F. Bruton, president of the National Bank of Wilson, N. C.

Group two, Class B—D. R. Corker, merchant and farmer of Hartsville, S. C

Group three, Class A—Edwin Mann, president of the First National Bank of Bluefield, W. Va.

Group three, Class B—James F. Oyster, wholesale produce merchant, Washington, D. C.

A division of the banks in each reserve district, under direction of the federal act, places 160 banks in group one, comprising all banks, each possessing an aggregate capital and surplus, of $140,000 and over. Group two has 158 banks each, with a combined capital and surplus less than $140,000 and more than $60,000. The same number is contained in group three, which includes all banks possessing an aggregate capital and surplus of $60,000 and less.

The arbitrary division into groups according to capitalization takes no account of geographical lines. If it were desirable to have more than one director from the same locality, it was felt that they should be elected as the result of some misunderstanding, and not by accident.

The men elected consist of three bankers known as class A directors and three representatives of the commercial, agricultural, or other industrial interests, to be known as Class B. directors. Now the Federal reserve board will appoint three Class C. rectors, who must not even be stock holders of a bank, and one of th will be designated as chairman.

Registration figures for the Fifth Federal Reserve District convention at the Jefferson Hotel yesterday show that 204 accredited delegates were in attendance. In a large number of cases delegates were authorized to represent one or more banks besides the institutions with which they were themselves associated The convention represented a majority of the 476 banks of the Fifth District.

Among the official list of delegates were the following:

Alexandria—Alexandria National roll Pierce.

Alexandria—Alexanddia National, C E. Nicol.

Alexandria—First National, George E. Warfield.

Body is Found in Woods.

Lynchburg, Va., May 19—At Abert, Bedford county, on Sunday, the badly decomposed body of an unknown white man was found in a secluded woods, the man apparently having been dead two months. His collar bore the initials of W. M. C., but there are no other means of identification, excepting a lot of Sunday school literature and religious tracts, which had been found scattered over the woods. This, it is thought, tends to show the man was a colporteur. The county authorities are investigating.

SCOTTISH RITE REUNION.

Southern Jurisdiction of Masonry in Annual Conclave.

Richmond, May 19.—The opening session of the Supereme Reunion, Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite Masons, was held last night at the Masonic Temple following a dinner given to the degree candidates and members of the teams. Nearly 100 men appeared as candidates for the ineffable degrees, and others will arrive today to take the historical and religious degrees and those of a higher standing which will be given tomorrow and Thursday.

The ineffable degrees which were conferred upon the candidates last night, consist of the fourth through the fourteenth. The higher degrees will be conferred upon the candidates later in the week.

One of the most prominent men whom the reunion will bring to Richmond is Vice President Thomas R. Marshall, and another is James D. Richardson, sovereign commander of the Supreme Council of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite Freemasonry for the Southern Jurisdiction of the United States.

One of the most interesting features of the convention, which will be in session four days, will be the conferring of the thirty-second degree upon a number of candidates Thursday night. A special team from the Scottish Rite bodies of Washington will come to Richmond to conduct the ceremony in the grand lodge room. It is said that one of the largest numbers in the history of the order in Virginia is seeking this degree, one of the highest in Freemasonry.

Today the historical and religious degrees, the fifteenth through the eighteenth, were conferred upon the candidates seeking them.

CHURCH POLITICS SCORED.

Methodist Ministers Say General Conferences Have Sinned.

Wilmington, Del., May 19.—Accusations that "pernicious politics monopolizes the time of General Conferences" was made in resolutions presented at yesterday's meeting of the Wilmington Methodist Episcopal Ministers' Association. It was offered by the Rev. George A. Cook, pastor of Wesley Methodist Episcopal Church, Wilmington.

The resolutions declare that for 30 years the General Conferences have been sinning against the church by enacting legislation that diverts the church from the principles of its founders and demands the abrogation of the legislation passed in 1912 relating to the retirement of bishops.

The Rev. Dr. George Edward Reed, pastor of Grace Church, former president of Dickinson College, said the game of politics was maliciously played at every General Conference. He declared votes were bargained for as at political conventions.

As has been stated in the Gazette, Virginia Democratic factions are shaping themselves for a fight over the next Gubernatorial nomination and for the seat in the United States Senate now held by Senator Claude A. Swanson, according to reports being repeated in political circles among Virginians in Washington.

It is stated that Governor Henry C. Stuart has United States Senatorial ambitions and will seek to capture Senator Swanson's toga, and that Representative Carter Glass, of Lynchburg, will enter the Gubernatorial contest with the hope of realizing the ambition of his political life—the Governorship of his native State.

Senator Swanson's term will expire in 1917. The primary will be held in the summer of 1916. Governor Stuart's term as Chief Executive of Virginia, expires in January, 1918, and he would serve only three years of his term as Governor should he be successful in defeating Senator Swanson.

It is said that Mr. Glass and Governor Stuart will be found working hand in hand should they decide to seek the Governorship and the Swanson seat in the Senate.

Senator Swanson has served in the House of Representatives. He was elected Governor of Virginia. He enjoys the distinction of being the only ex-Governor of Virginia who has broken a precedent of a generation by winning a United States Senatorial toga after retiring as the Chief Executive of his State.

Former Governor Hoge Taylor tried to attain this honor and failed. Former Governor Montague made the same effort and failed. Senator Swanson was named as the successor of the late Senator Daniel. He defeated Representative Glass in a primary for renomination by about 33,000 majority.

DELEGATES SUSTAIN PRESIDENT WILSON.

President Wilson has been overwhelmingly sustained on the Panama Canal repeal bill by the poll taken by Senator Gore of the delegates to the last Democratic National Convention on this subject. The idea was a new one and the result leaves Democratic dissenters from President Wilson's policy in a very lonely situation. Of the 1,088 delegates who attended the convention, 867 have responded to Senator Gore's letter of inquiry, and of these 702 repudiate their approval of exemption, 127 stand by the original declaration and 38 are noncommittal. If all the remaining 221 who have not yet answered should oppose the President, he would be sustained by more than two-to-one of the convention. But if the poll continues to show the same proportion in favor of repeal that it has done from the beginning, at least four-fifths of the delegates will be found behind Mr. Wilson. In effect, this amounts to an unofficial retraction of this plank in the platform, and Democratic ticklers for party authority have lost this part of their argument.

BECKER MAY TESTIFY.

Believed he Will be Forced to Stand in Final Effort to Clear Himself of Murder.

New York, May 19.—That Charles Becker, apparently neither hard and fast by the State's case charging him with procuring the murder of Herman Rosenthal, will be forced to the stand in a last effort to clear himself of the gambler's assassination, was believed certain when the defense opened today.

Becker, it was said, is impressed with the fact that his life is in dire peril and is anxious to brave the attack of District Attorney Whitman. He is opposed by Martin T. Manton, his chief counsel. Manton professes to believe that the State has failed to make out a case.

Becker, his wife, and Harford T. Marshall, of his counsel, however, are said to have fought long last night in conference with a Manton, urging that Becker tell his story. Before court opened today it was believed that Jacob Reich, alias Jack Sullivan, "King of the Newsboys," who lifted Rosenthal's dying form after the gunmen's bullets struck, would be the first witness. Nearly thirty other witnesses are on the defense list. They probably will take up about three days of the court's time.

WOULD HARNESS POTOMAC

Senator Norris Advances and Supports A Plan.

Washington, May 19.—Lighting up building occupied by the national government in the District of Columbia is the task the Potomac river must perform if Senator Norris has his way. There's a cost of $15,000,000 to be considered before the development of this river power is made by Uncle Sam. Senator Norris is trying to get this item, which would result in a big saving to the federal treasury in a few years, attached to the river and harbor appropriation bill. The chances, are, however, that it will be put into one of the other budget bills instead.

Army engineers have been looking with ambitious eyes at the rapids in the Potomac, just above the city, ever since George Washington selected this site for the capital. Time after time the power has been investigated and the engineers have been chagrined to witness the indifference of the Senate and House to the project. Recently a new estimate of the cost of development has been prepared, and Norris has made it his special business to see that the project is brought to a definite issue and a vote.

Under the new plan there will be a dam built 115 feet in height, located near the old Chain Bridge, above Goergetown. This will form a lake that will extend nine miles upstream, to the foot of the Great Falls of the Potomac. The scenic beauty of the falls will be left untouched, but from the 150,000 horsepower now running to waste in the stream within the nine miles to be covered by the improvement the power plant will be able to conserve two-thirds.

Uncle Sam is not using anywhere near 100,000 horsepower of electrical energy in Washington at present, but he will soon need a great deal more than is now available. In the 92 buildings and groups of buildings which he uses here the average daily requirement is 10,728 horsepower and the "peak" or greatest use between 3 and 6 p. m, in the winter when all of the offices use the electric lights is 14,751 horsepower. The engineers estimate that by the year 1913 "peak" requirement will be 34,866 horsepower. Just what growth in governmental activities they were able to figure on in order to arrive at an estimate of the needs 23 years hence is not clear.

However, they are agreed that the city must have new means of lighting for government buildings and that the Potomac Rapids offer the biggest bargain in power that lies undeveloped near any important city on the country.

Just how cheap this electric light and power will be is illustrated by the estimate on lighting. The government now payst 20.11c per kilowatt hour for the "juice." The proposed plant, with all overcharges counted in, would furnish it as .87 per kilowatt hour.

THE EXPRESS IS IN THIS TOWN
AND IN TO STAY

For seventy-five years—three-quarters of a century—the express has been the right-hand of the shippers of commercial America. The Express came to Alexandria in 1850 and it came to stay. For sixty-four years it has been the right-hand of commercial Alexandria.

It is here to stay. The other day when reports went out that the express companies might retire from business, a protest went up. From whom this protest—the express companies? No! the merchants of the country—shippers everywhere—petitioned Congress that no action be taken that might have the effect of forcing the express companies to retire. Commercial organizations all over the land have joined in this appeal to Washington.

For seventy-five years in the past and for a good many more years in the future Express Service will mean.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Demands by organized labor for a provision in the forthcoming antitrust legislation which would practically legalize strikes and boycotts were rejected by the House judiciary committee yesterday. The labor representatives, who included Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor; Jackson H. Ralston, attorney for that organization, and Representative Lewis, of Maryland, left a conference with the Congressmen, saying they would carry the fight to the floor of the House and, if necessary, to the floor of the Senate. The judiciary committee was represented in the conference by Chairman Clayton, Representative Floyd, and Representative Carlin. They contended that organized labor originally had agreed to the language of the Clayton bill as reported, and that the action of the labor leaders yesterday was a complete reversal of position. Both sides were determined to 'stand pat" as the conference broke up.

Posing as detectives, three burglars entered the Strand moving picture theatre, 47th St., and Brodway, New York, yesterday, and at pistol point handcuffed and bound five men. After working at the safe for more than three hours, they blew it open with dynamite, escaping with nearly $10,000 in cash. Two of the robbers wore masks and the five victims were so frightened that they could not obtain an accurate description of th third, who acted as chief.

Bernard Swenson, a wealthy resident of Leland, Ill., ran amuck in th town, shot two men, one of whom may die, broke up a funeral, and stood guard over the body in the center of the town until a posse arrived. He was driven into the woods, where he was captured after a rifle battle, and is now in jail at Sycamore, Ill. Five persons who were in an automobile had a narrow escape. Shots fire by Swenson riddled the machine, but none struck the occupants.

Bequests totaling nearly $500,000 are made to Catholic institutions by the will of Mrs. Catherine Paris, of Boston, Mass., which has been filed for probate in New York. The will of Mrs. Gertrude Cutter, also filed in New York, leaves the residue of her estate, about $1,000,000, to be distributed among charitable institutions by her executors. Mrs. Paris leaves the residue of her large eatate to the Rev. Geo. A. Guertin, Catholic Bishop of Manchester, N. H., for distribution among the charities maintained by the church in his diocese.

James Woodsome, a negro, was taken from Sheriff John Logan, of Polk county, Fla., by a mob near Gordonsville, yesterday afternoon and shot to death because he attempted to assault a white woman in a hotel at Bartow.

A dispatch from Belize, British Honduras, says ten persons, including two Catholic priests, were drowned Saturday night in the sinking of the Sloop El Amo. Thirteen others were rescued after borrowing experiences. The accident occurred off the coast. Most of those aboard were returning from a boxing match. The boat upset in a sudden squall and carried several persons down with it. The priests are said to have been Jesuits, and had recently come to the colony from Ireland.

Four Russian electricians at work on a power line at Black Lake, Quebec, were electrocuted yesterday. They came into contact with a wire carrying 50,000 volts.

A $500,000 appropriation for the erection of a permanent building to house government exhibits at the Panama Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco, urged by President Wilson in a special message last March was proposed in a bill favorably reported to the House yesterday by the exposition committee

American citizens only are to be trusted to pilot vessels passing through the Panama canal under the rules just laid down by Colonel Goethals to govern the appointment of pilots. Your kidneys surely need help—and quickly—when your hands and feet thicken, swell up and feel dull, sluggish lose your energy and appetite and there is a puffy look under the eyes. BIG AGRICULTURAL LAND OPENING

TWELVE HUNDRED AND FIFTY TRACTS of two and ten acres each to be granted to prospective settlers in throwing open Twenty Thousand Acres of Rich, Southern Georgia Land, which is admirably adapted to the growing of celery, sweet and Irish potatoes, cantaloupes, water melons, corn, oats, cotton, hay—in fact all staple crops grown in this fertile section, as well as a large variety of semi-tropical fruits, and the famous immensely profitable paper-shell pecans.

Providing you are eligible under the classifications prescribed by us, you are now offered an excellent opportunity to break away from the drudgery and toil of a small wage, or working for the benefit of landlords, and go back to the land of plenty, to which, if granted, you will hold a warranty deed and abstract.

The best security on earth is the earth itself and land is the basis of all wealth. Owners of productive lands are benefitting by the increasing high cost of living, while others are suffering from it.

An Opportunity to Secure Rich Productive Land Without Capital

You will not be required to leave your present surroundings now. All we ask of those to whom we grant tracks is that they plant or, arrange a crop of one of the above-mentioned products within three years, after which we will have it operated (harvested and replanted) for grantees, in consideration of 25 per cent. of the net profits derived from the ale of the crops, thereby allowing the grantee to pursue his or her present occupation until such time as they determine just what the yield of their acres amounts to. Consider what this may mean as a source of income, when statistics show that the yield of one acre of celery amounted to $1,268.45, and that one acre of well-cared-for paper-shell pecans, in full bearing, should net its owner as high as $500.00 per year. We are of the opinion that after it is proven by actual results obtained in operating the land that they will need no further arguing, and waste no time in locating on this land of plenty. We also require grantees to occupy the land within ten years, or sell it to some one who will occupy it, otherwise it reverts back to the grantor.

The land included in this opening is located directly on and adjoining the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic Railroad, about twenty-five miles west of Brunswick, a thriving city of fifteen thousand, having direct steamship service to New York and Boston, and excellent railroad transportation facilities to all points. The average temperature for six months of the year, from April to October, is 77 degrees; the climate is most healthful, delightful, and invigorating, and there is an ample rainfall of 51 inches per year.

Our Aim is For Mutually Beneficial Results.

As we are extremely desirous of having settlers locate on this property, and assist in its development, and thereby greatly increase the value of surrounding and intervening property, which we will hold and to increase the traffic along the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic Railroad, and thus facilitate the service, we feel warranted in granting these tracts to those who register with us. We also have in mind business and residence plots which we will offer for sale after the opening, but which will not be included in it. We have "money-making afterward" considerations in this liberal-minded opening similar to those of the Northern Pacific and other Railroads when they granted their lands, and we expect to benefit thereby, as well as the ones who will receive the tracts.

We have also planned to develop what is designed to be the best equipped, most up-to-date, scientific, commercial farm and orchard in existence. It will consist of six thousand acres and will be included in this opening. All who register and receive tracts will get the benefit of the experiments and scientific methods in vogue thereon. While we are arranging to prevent over-registration, we will avoid many disappointments, such as occurred in other land openings conducted by the United States Government and railroads, by granting those who register in excess of the number of tracts to be granted, an interest in this commercial farm and orchard enterprise, in the hope that they may later locate in one of our town sites.

Examination of the land will be cheerfully permitted, and the opening will be held at Browntown, Wayne county, Georgia, one of the stations of the A. B. & A. Railroad, which is located on this property, and will occur as soon after the closing of registrations as arrangements can be made.

The presence of those registered will not be necessary at Browntown on the opening day, unless they wish to attend, for there will be no favoritism shown any one. It will be conducted by a committee selected for the purpose, and those registered will be notified of what they have been granted, as soon as possible.

With an ever-increasing population of this country there is no corresponding increase in the area of land, and naturally as the population increases and seeks the land in pursuit of health, happiness and independence, it will continue to be harder to secure.

The prosperous and contented class in Europe today are the descendants of those who secured land there when it was plentiful, while the descendants of those who obtained no land are now the peasants and slaves. You must realize that this may be your last chance to secure land in this country without a large outlay of capital, so it should not be necessary to urge you to act at once by forwarding us the application for registration attached to this announcement.

SCHOOL GIRL KIDNAPPED.

Whisked Into Carriage And Chloroformed, She Says.

Philadelphia, May 19.—A remarkable tale of kidnapping in the heart of the residential district of West Philadelphia was told yesterday by Miss Mabel Bowden, an attractive 17-year-old Catholic High School girl, who last night wandered to the house of W. B. Lamb, at Overbrook, after she had been seized by two men, dragged into a carriage and chloroformed.

At her home Miss Bowden gave a brief description of her experiences. She said:

"I was walking near Thirty-fifth street and Fairmount avenue when a carriage drew up and two men jumped out. They came up behind me and, grabbing me, carried me into the carriage before I could make an outcry.

"In the carriage one of them started the horse, while the other put a handkerchief over my face that was damp and had a sickening, sweet odor. I soon lost consciousness and do not remember anything more until I found myself in the country. The men were nearby and were drinking and talking in low tones. My hands were tied and I tried to get them loose, but couldn't. Then I crawled away quietly until I thought I was out of sight. After that I ran till I came to some houses and rang a bell."

Surgeons said they could find no evidence of a felonious attack.

The girl's wrists are deeply marked by ropes and her dress shows evidences of flight.

CHURCH TO FIGHT ON.

Southern Methodist Conference Votes Not to Give up Vanderbilt Without Struggle.

Oklahoma City, Okla., May 19.—The quadrennial conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, in session here yesterday voted to reconsider the entire Vanderbilt University question.

The committee of fifteen is instructed to follow the spirit of the majority report and the supplementary legislation submitted at yesterday's session by Judge N. E. Harris, of the Georgia conference.

The majority report on the Vanderbilt controversy, which was adopted by the conference Saturday night, provided for returning to the original eight patronizing conferences whatever interest in the university remained to the church under the Tennessee Supreme Court's recent decision. The court held that the church did not have control of Vanderbilt.

It developed yesterday that the signers of the majority report had discovered that the church held substantial instead of "negligible" rights in Vanderbilt, despite the court's rulings.

This was brought out in a proposed amendment to the report, providing for continuation of relations for the interim between the adjournment of the General Conference and the completion of reconveying of Vanderbilt to the patronizing conferences and giving the Board of Education authority to confirm or reject trustees.

Judge D. H. Linebaugh, chairman of the Vanderbilt committee of fifteen, contended the acceptance of the Carnegie gift by the board of trust of Vanderbilt over the veto of the bishops, was "a violation of their trust, a dishonor to the church and had created an irreconsibable difference." He declared the legal title of Vanderbilt was in the board of trust, but an equitable title rested in the patronizing conferences.

A report from the committee on education was presented and adopted indorsing the work of the general board for the quadrennium and ratifying the plan of creating an endowment fund. The report suggested that $500,000 be raised in the next four years.

The question of laity rights for women was made an order of today. Two reports of the committee are pending, the majority being against and the minority favoring extension of such rights. The majority is signed by 48 members of the committee, while 19 signed the minority report.

Miss Mary Hough, about 40 years old, is held by the sheriff at Canton, Ohio, awaiting word from her relatives in Brooklyn. Only half clad she jumped from a Pennsylvania railroad parlor car yesterday when it stopped, and ran a mile through the city. She cried that white slavers were after her. She was turned over to the Young Women's Christian Association, but later jumped from the building. The sheriff took her into custody. She says she was on her way from Winnipeg, Canada to relatives in Brooklyn.

Owes His Life to This Lung Remedy

If you neglect a continued cough or cold you are in constant danger of easily contracting serious Lung Trouble. That cough or cold which does not yield to ordinary treatment should be a warning to you and preventive measures should be taken as soon as possible. In many cases Eckman's Alterative, a remedy for Throat and Lung Troubles, effects a permanent recovery. Read:

Catherine Ave. and Ascot Place.
Queens Court, L. I., N. Y.

"Gentlemen: In the year 1908 I was taken with a heavy cold and a nasty short cough. I went to several doctors, who gave me a lot of medicine. Finally, I went to a specialist, who gave me a prescription that made me sick of that kind of food; consequently I failed in health. I then used one carbottle, and seemed to get better, but the cough still kept up. I stayed there for one year, and then went to a farm near Jersey City, a very sickly place. About the time of my return, my brother recommended Eckman's Alterative to me very highly. It is now nearly two years since I first took it. I am now well, and I dare say that I would have been buried long ago if it had not been for Eckman's Alterative."

Eckman's Alterative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious for severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Stubborn Colds and in upbuilding the system.
